I'm a second-year Business & Financial Technology student at Nanyang Polytechnic, passionate about accounting and finance. My technical toolkit includes Excel, Python, MySQL, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I thrive in team environments and enjoy leadership responsibilities. I'm now seeking internships or projects where I can apply my skills, learn from real-world finance challenges, and continue growing.

For a DELL academic assignment aimed at bridging the intergenerational gap between youth and the elderly, I implemented the Activities and Events feature using Flask and SQLAlchemy, handling event data creation and display. I led the integration of all four system modules (events, posts, messaging, profile management) into a unified application, ensuring consistent routing, database relationships, and smooth user flow.

Portfolio Website

Built my own portfolio website to show my projects, skills, and achievements. Made a homepage and separate sections for each project, with a clear navigation so visitors can find information easily. Focused on making it easy to use and looking consistent across pages.

SkillShift Club

07/2025 - 08/2025

Nanyang Polytechnic

Developed a simulated CCA web platform as part of an academic assignment. Created a fictional CCA with structured pages including Home, About Us, Events, FAQ, and Join Us. Built the Events page with a colour-coded calendar to represent different training sessions and activities (e.g. Wushu, Netball, Dragon Boat) using hard-coded schedules. Implemented a Join Us form allowing trial students to submit their names. Designed and built the navigation bar, footer, homepage layout, FAQ page, and overall site structure.
